

OUR PARTNERS

Pink Shirt Day is led by the Mental Health Foundation with support from InsideOUT, Te Kaha O Te Rangatahi Trust, Village Collective, New Zealand Post Primary Teachers' Association (PPTA), the Human Rights Commission, Auckland District Health Board Peer Sexuality Support Programme (PSSP), the Peace Foundation, Youthline and Bullying-Free NZ Week.

InsideOUT – a national organisation which works to make Aotearoa a safer place for all young people of minority sexualities, sexes and genders to live and be in.

Te Kaha O Te Rangatahi Trust – a Māori community-based youth provider delivering sexual health and teenage pregnancy services to young Māori and Pacific Island rangatahi (youth) and their whānau within the Counties Manukau, Central, North and West Auckland areas.

Village Collective – a Pacific-centric consumer led charitable organisation that aims to equip Pacific youth, families and communities with relevant knowledge, resources and information relating to sexual health and wellbeing.

The Human Rights Commission – the Human Rights Commission works for a free, fair, safe and just New Zealand, where diversity is valued and human dignity and rights are respected. Their purpose is to promote and protect the human rights of all people in Aotearoa.

New Zealand Post Primary Teachers' Association (PPTA) – the professional association and union of teachers and principals committed to improving secondary education for New Zealand students.

The Peace Foundation – a not for profit organisation working to build peaceful relationships among people of all ages and cultures, from personal to global through education, research and action.

Auckland District Health Board Peer Sexuality Support Programme (PSSP) – a school-based programme delivered in the Auckland region, helping students to make informed decisions about their own sexual health. PSSP aims to formalise already existing networks through training students to work in a support and referral role with their peers.

Youthline – a collaboration of youth development organisations across the country. Youthline works with young people, their families and those supporting young people. At the core of their work is the development of leadership and personal skills in young people.

Bullying-Free NZ Week (13-17 May) – a week-long opportunity to raise awareness of bullying behaviour and promote what schools are doing to become a bullying-free school. It is an initiative of the cross-sector Bullying Prevention Advisory Group, a collaboration of 18 organisations with representatives from the education, health, justice and social sectors.
